Data is believed to be accurate, but errors may occur and no guarantee of accuracy is made. Some investment choices may not be listed. () indicates similar proxy fund.

This investment map is a tool for categorizing investment choices into their closest matching asset classes. A category may change or drift over time. Fund names can be misleading.

Some asset classes may offer multiple choices. Closer analysis may be used to select a specific investment from among several choices. Fund name suffixes indicate share class.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. Periods of overperformance may be followed by underperformance. Proper diversification is recommended.
